

Application for Additional Financial Aid for Off-Campus Programs

The SLU Financial Aid Office assists aided students with the cost of air fare to abroad programs. Students are expected to cover the first $750 but can get help with fares over that initial $750. The application form in the acceptance packet covers this air fare assistance. All students can apply for additional support from the Center for International and Intercultural Studies (CIIS). This office administers some endowments (gifts to the university) which are designated for student participants in our off-campus programs.

If you wish to apply for this CIIS funding, you need to complete this form & the attached biographical information form by the deadline (Nov. 5 for spring programs and April 5 for fall/year programs) & return them to CIIS, Carnegie 108.
